In October 2018, we added 18 new production machines which will make a total of 30 header and 25 rolling machines.

This will increase the production capacity to 83 million units per month from the current production capacity of 60 million units per month.

With the increase in production capacity, we have added three image inspection machines giving us a total of 6 machines.

These machines play an important role in production assurance.

We will continue to study the equipment so that we can deliver fasteners that do not compromise quality to our customer's local factories.

Thank you for your continued support.
